PROFESSIONAL DESIGNATION QUALIFICATIONS

BOARD CERTIFIED IN ESTATE PLANNING® (BCE®)

The Board Certified in Estate Planning™, BCE® is a highly educated, experienced and qualified professional committed to the well-being of you, your family and your business. The BCE® can provide basic and advanced guidance on a wide range of actively and passively managed investments. With the help and knowledge of a BCE®, you can determine a client's goals, objectives and risks, the documents needed, ownership interests, special elections and post-mortem planning.

Education – BCE® candidates must complete a comprehensive advanced program designed to educate the advisor on every aspect of property transfers during life and at death, taxation, risks, trusts and wills, drafting and estate plan and post-mortem planning.

Experience – BCE® professionals must have a bachelor's degree or 2,000 hours of experience completed in the financial services industry prior to completing the BCE® course. As a result, BCE® practitioners possess extensive financial counseling skills in addition to estate planning skills.

Ethics – All graduates must sign the IBF Code of Ethics and agree to adhere to the IBF Standards of Practice, both of which place client interests above those of the advisor and parent company. The BCE® advisor pledges to put your interests above all else, keep abreast of industry standards, new strategies and academic white papers. While conducting all activities with the highest standards of integrity and honesty, BCE® advisors perform investment services in a professional and economical manner offering advice only in areas of competence. The BCE® marks are in compliance with FINRA and IBF.

Ongoing Certification Requirements – IBF's continuing education (CE) policy is an integral part of its commitment to the highest competency standards in the industry. Every BCE® advisor is required to regularly submit 30 hours of continuing education to maintain technical competence and fulfill ethical obligations.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®)

The Certified Financial Planner™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the "CFP® marks") are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. ("CFP Board").

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board's studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor's Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning.

Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year).

Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals. Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks: Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients. CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

Ongoing Certification Requirements – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field.

CHARTERED FINANCIAL CONSULTANT® (ChFC®)

The Chartered Financial Consultant® (ChFC) designation program focuses on the comprehensive financial planning process as an organized way to collect and analyze information on a client's total financial situation; to identify and establish specific financial goals; and to formulate, implement, and monitor a comprehensive plan to achieve those goals.

Education – Chartered Financial Consultants® must successfully complete eight courses on all aspects of financial planning from The American College. Courses include: financial planning, income taxation, investments, and estate and retirement planning. CHARTERED RETIREMENT PLANNING COUNSELOR™ (CRPC™)

The Chartered Retirement Planning Counselor™, CRPC™ and federally registered CRPC marks are professional certification marks granted in the United States by The College for Financial Planning.

The CRPC™ certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CRPC™ certification. Individuals who hold the CRPC™ designation have completed a course of study encompassing pre-and post-retirement needs, asset management, estate planning and the entire retirement planning process using models and techniques from real client situations.

Additionally, individuals must pass an end-of-course examination that tests their ability to synthesize complex concepts and apply theoretical concepts to real-life situations.

Education – The year-long educational program for each designation encompasses specific content covering both theory and practical application. The curriculum is developed by the College's highly esteemed faculty with input from the country's top investment and financial firms giving students the benefit of applying their learning to real-world situations and cases. As a regionally-accredited institution of higher learning, the College applies rigorous pedagogical principles to all its curricula.

Experience – individuals must complete a three-month long internship program in which they obtain verification from their immediate supervisor or employer documenting their mastery of a set of basic financial planning-related skills.

Ethics – After successful completion of the end-of-course examination, individuals apply for authorization to use the designation. The application includes:

- Adherence to Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards of Professional Conduct establishes minimum standards of acceptable professional conduct for persons authorized to use the Registered Marks.
- Self-Disclosure. Applicants must disclose any criminal, civil, self-regulatory organization, or governmental agency inquiry, investigation, or proceeding relating to their professional or business conduct. Conferment of the designation is contingent upon the College for Financial Planning's review of matters either self-disclosed or which are discovered by the College that are required to be disclosed.
- Adherence to Terms and Conditions. The Terms and Conditions outline designees' rights to use the College's Marks and acknowledges the rights of the College to protect the Marks from unauthorized use by individuals or entities.

Ongoing Certification Requirements – Following initial conferment of one of the College for Financial Planning's professional designations, authorization for continued use of the credential must be renewed every two years by completing 16-hours of continuing education, reaffirming compliance with the Standards of Professional Conduct, Terms and Conditions and complying with self-disclosure requirements.

The College monitors its designees' compliance with the designation requirements and standards. Any alleged violations are subject to disciplinary procedures.

CHARTERED LIFE UNDERWRITER® (CLU®)

The Chartered Life Underwriter™, CLU designation provides professionals with an extensive understanding of estate planning and wealth transfer. The CLU®, provides professionals with the information necessary to provide advice to individuals, families and business owners. The CLU® curriculum focuses on applied estate planning, insurance laws and taxes, and applications of insurance.

Education – Topics for required courses include insurance and financial planning, life insurance law, estate planning, and planning for business owners and professionals. Elective courses include such advanced topics as income taxes, group benefits, retirement planning, and health insurance.

Experience – CLU® Chartered life underwriters often will already possess degrees from accredited universities that have to do with various aspects of finances in general. In addition, CLUs tend to have successfully worked in positions that involve a great deal of financial expertise. Because the completed courses that are necessary to become a chartered life underwriter are comprehensive in nature, the CLU will have expertise in all sorts of aspects of estate and financial planning, financial management, general economics, employee benefit package structuring, and corporation tax protocols.

Ethics – The graduate ethics pledge: “In all my professional relationships, I pledge myself to the following rule of ethical conduct: I shall, in light of all conditions surrounding those I serve, which I shall make every conscientious effort to ascertain and understand, render that service which, in the same circumstances, I would apply to myself.”

CERTIFIED DIVORCE FINANCIAL ANALYST™ (CDFA™)

The Certified Divorce Financial Analyst™, CDFATM designation is a professional certification granted by the Institute for Divorce Financial Analysts. The certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planner to hold CDFATM certification. It is recognized in United States and Canada.
